

SEC Environmental Policy

The Scottish Event Campus (SEC) is one of the UK's largest integrated event spaces, purpose-built for exhibitions, conferences, and live entertainment. The SEC hosts more than 250 events a year, with up to 2.1 million visitors annually. Whilst planning to further grow and develop our business, we are committed to achieving this objective through responsibly managing the environmental impact of our operations.

OUR ENVIRONMENTAL VISION

The SEC are committed to reducing our environmental impact by having an effective Environmental Management System that supports our strategy and helps to manage our environmental risk.

WHAT WE WILL DO

We acknowledge that events staged at the SEC can have a substantial impact on the natural and built environment and have therefore identified the following actions for focus:

- The SEC is committed to working towards certification to ISO14001 Environmental Management System.
- The SEC shall fulfil our environmental compliance obligations, including legal requirements through our environmental legal register and compliance audits.
- To protect the environment by preventing pollution through ensuring environmental best practice is followed, implementing environmental incident response planning and training.
- To reduce our carbon footprint through active management and monitoring of our energy and water consumption and waste management practices and pursuing our carbon commitment of Net Zero by 2030.
- Continual improvement of our environmental sustainability performance.

In 2025, we will review and enhance the SEC Sustainability Strategy which sets out our targets and objectives until 2030. We will also pursue energy reductions through investment and efficiency projects, enhanced engagement with our teams through our Team Green group and implement policies and procedures to support our target of ISO14001 certification.

All SEC team members have a role to play in the implementation of this environmental policy. The policy statement will be reviewed annually by senior management to ensure that it remains relevant to the SEC's business activities and reflects updates to its environmental objectives and targets. This policy is made public through our website.
